Murrayville Cemetery is located at 21405 44 Ave, Langley, BC (604-530-0838). It is maintained by the Township of Langley, Cemeteries Department, 4700 – 224 St., Langley, BC, V2Z 1N4 (Tel: 604-534-5965, Fax: 604-534-5909).

To drive there, take the Fraser Highway to Langley, turn south on 216 St and go to 44 Ave, turn right. There is a small green sign on the street signs – “CEMETERY”. 44 Ave is a dead end street. Go to the end. There is an area outside the gates to park or you may park on the roads in the cemetery.

The cemetery gates (for cars) are open Monday to Friday from 0900 to 1600. The side gate for pedestrians is always open. When the main gates are open so is a restroom in the shed by the gates. There is a water pump by the road behind the cenotaph. The cemetery is fenced and surrounded by a green area. It is maintained by the Municipality of Langley.

HISTORY:

Murrayville cemetery was opened by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in 1891 on land donated by William Murray. The Murray family was the first white family to settle in the area, soon to be followed by the Porter family. In 1904 The Langley Township acquired the land and renamed the cemetery Langley Prairie Cemetery but it was known locally and presently as Murrayville Cemetery. More land was donated in 1926 by the Haggerty brothers. Early plots sold for $6.00 for a double plot.

The oldest stone in the cemetery is for Alexander Murray who drowned in the Fraser River in 1884 (before the cemetery was opened). Alexander was originally buried in Fort Langley Cemetery and later exhumed and reburied in Murrayville Cemetery. The first recorded burial in the cemetery was John Jackson in 1892. Both these stones are found in the Old West section. The cenotaph in the Old East Section was dedicated after 1920.

The cemetery divides into three sections – Old West (OW), Old East (OE) and New (N). The New Section is the first section you will see when entering the gates. There is a road around the New Section with parking allowed. Further in straight ahead is the Old East Section and to the left the Old West Section. The Old East Section contains the WW I cenotaph. Family markers for the Murray and Porter families will be found in the Old West Section.

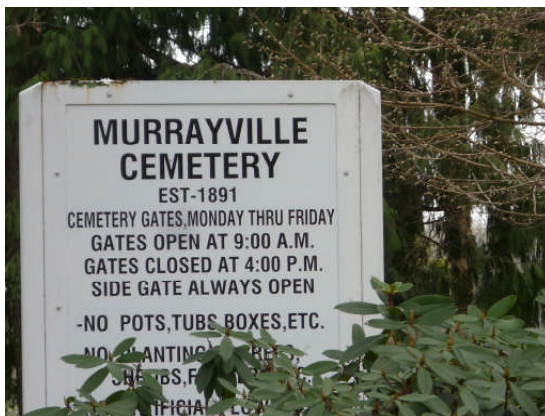

The cemetery is well maintained and peaceful. There are birds singing and squirrels running around. But do be careful of squirrels dropping nuts in the fall. If you have difficulty finding a grave site and a cemetery worker is there, ask to see the plot map which is kept in the shed by the entrance gates. If no worker is there, go the Municipality of Langley City Hall. (Go back to 214 St, turn left or north, turn right or east on the Fraser Highway and drive up the hill where you will see the City Hall complex on your right.) If you phone or write in advance the cemetery workers will mark the grave site for you.

CEMETERY MAP

For purposes of this transcription I have divided the cemetery into 3 areas, OLD WEST (OW), the farthest from the gate and the oldest part of the cemetery; OLD EAST (OE) where the cenotaph is located and NEW (N), the area immediately inside the gates. In addition, the inscriptions are given row numbers but do not take this too literally as the rows sometimes meander a bit. The row numbers are to give a general location of the marker. See the map for where the rows began in each section. The row numbers may not correspond to those the cemetery uses.
