British Columbia Genealogical Society Family History Book Award

The British Columbia Genealogical Society (BCGS) sponsors an annual book award to encourage family history research and writing in and about British Columbia, Canada.

Books considered must be written by a British Columbia author and relate to British Columbia family history.

Books must be published in the current year (2014). The deadline for submission is February 15th 2015.

The books should be readable and to accepted genealogical standards.

The family history should include an index, family charts, maps, photos and reference all documents.

Information submitted should include the author and publisher's name, address, phone number and email address and the price of the book.

All books submitted become the property of the British Columbia Genealogical Society.

To submit a book for consideration for the BCGS Family History Book Award, send one copy to BCGS 211 – 14981 – 101A Avenue, Surrey, BC V3R 0T1

The British Columbia Genealogical Society Family History Award will be presented at the June 2015 meeting of the British Columbia Genealogical Society.

The British Columbia Genealogical Society and its volunteer members have been actively researching and preserving British Columbia, Canada's genealogical heritage since 1971.
